2. Contributions

Thus far, every team member has contributed equally to all tasks involved in building this project. Regarding recent tasks, their contributions can be divided as follows for each individual.

Efoe Etienne Blavo

- Design of the website
- Create a static visualization

UONG Tri Minh

- Add description and other information to make other understand and interact with the visualization
- Add interactions to the visualization

Our next steps involve introducing color gradients to the domains to depict the impact on each one visually. Additionally, we aim to implement a feature where hovering over a job title will display the percentage of tasks that have been automated versus those still performed by humans.
